Dear Parents,

The students and I are looking forward to our NYSSMA Festival on Monday, May 14 at Southampton High School. This year, the lesson schedule is set up where we will be meeting twice per week to work on their NYSSMA audition.

Monday mornings at 8:15am will be used for sight reading and skills such as performing in front of others. This lesson includes students participating on levels 1, 2, and 3. If a student is participating in Marching Band, we will find another time to work on sight-reading.

Students will also have a rotating small group lesson each week where we will work on perfecting their NYSSMA piece and practice vocal techniques. This lesson period will be held at the end of the day and is scheduled to rotate so that your child does not miss the same day each week. Students are responsible for making up any work they miss.

Please keep in mind that, depending on what piece your child chooses, you may need to purchase music for the Festival. Each child needs two original copies of their song. I will provide you with information on where to purchase the music once we have chosen a song if I do not already have enough originals. In previous years, we have had students who have generously donated their books and music back to East Quogue, so you may not need to purchase anything if I have the originals.

If you have any questions regarding the lesson schedule, or groupings, please do not hesitate to ask. Thank you for your continued support of East Quogue's music program.

Musically Yours,

Kim Clemensen
